The second is that should the strike be prolonged there may be a louder call from some for legislation by Congress to empower the President to order compulsory arbitration in strikes which he

The third factor is this: Will the government eventually subsidize rail carriers as it does other commercial carriers?

unions because he wanted a big-hour. Quill also has been at odds with presidential fact finding boards and the Eisenhower Administration. Quill says he is seeking job security because the railroad "from 1950 to 1960 has permanently fur-
